Table of Contents

Gerold Sedlmayr
Introduction: Romantic Bodyscapes ................................................................. 7

Noah Heringman
"Winckelmann, Like the Cyclopes, Took His Evening Meal Naked":
Vesuvius, Time, and Embodiment ................................................................. 29

Tristanne Connolly
"His Stormy Bed": Blake, Sex and Electricity ....................................................... 55

George C. Grinnell
Forgetting James Aitken: Cultural Memory and the Body of the Condemned ...... 79

Monika Class
Observation Naturalised:
A Comparative Analysis of Franz Josef Gall's Brain-Based Psychology .......... 93

Barbara Schaff
The Anatomy of Passions in Joanna Baillie's Plays on the Passions ................ 107

Michelle Faubert
The Wollstonecraftian Plot: Female Suicide as Slave Protest ......................... 123

Nora Pleßke
Visual Objectifications of the 'Hottentot Venus' Sarah Baartman ...................... 145

Michael Meyer
Mungo Park in Africa: The Traveller's Embodied Self at Risk .......................... 167

Timo Pfaff
Coleridge's Embodied Aesthetics: Touch, Feeling, Imagination ....................... 181

Norbert Lennartz
Who's Afraid of Niobe?
Lord Byron and the Romantics' Scepticism about Porous Bodies .................... 199

Notes on Contributors .......................................................................................... 211

Index ...................................................................................................................... 215