Contents

Acknowledgements ........................................................................................................ 7

Seán Crosson (Galway)
1916 and Irish Literature, Culture & Society: An Introduction .................................. 9

Nils Beese (Munich)
From the Frying Pan into the Fire: James Connolly and the Transnational Importance of Scottish and Irish Slums .............................................................. 15

Michael C. Connolly (Portland)
“Changed Utterly”: The Shaping of the Modern Irish Labour Movement in the Aftermath of Easter 1916 ................................................................. 27

Hannah Wood (New York)
Irish Identity Onstage: How Irish Culture, Nationalism, and Rebellion Molded the Abbey Theatre into Ireland’s National Theatre ..................................... 43

Verena Commins (Galway)
Musical Statues: Monumentalising Irish Traditional Music .................................. 57

Terry Phillips (Liverpool)
“Our dead shall not have died in vain”: The War Poetry of Harry Midgley ............. 69

M. Teresa Caneda Cabrera (Vigo)
Trans/atlantic Mobilities: Translating Narratives of Irish Resistance ...................... 83

Laurent Daniel (Lorient)
The Changing Symbolism of Greyhound Sports in the Work of Bryan MacMahon ................................................................. 97

Valérie Morisson (Dijon)
Rewriting Irish History (1916-1921) in Popular Culture: Blood upon the Rose and At War with the Empire by Gerry Hunt ................................................................. 113

Claudia Luppino (Florence)
A Terrible Beauty was Born? Memory, History, and Forgetting in Colm Tóibín’s The Heather Blazing and John McGahern’s Amongst Women .............................. 133
Elena Cotta Ramusino (Pavia)
Neil Jordan’s The Past: A Journey in Time and Memory ............................................. 145

Donatella Abbate Badin (Turin)
“People mired in history”: Sebastian Barry and Cultural Memory in a European Perspective ................................................................................................................. 155

Joanna Kruczkowska (Łódź)
Tom Paulin and Ulster: Subversion or Sabotage? ......................................................... 167

Eilís Ní Dhúill (Galway)
Cleachtas na Scéalaíochta i gCorca Dhuihbne: Cumadh agus Láithriú na Staire Shóisialta i Measc Phobal Traidisiúnta Gaeilge ......................................................... 183

Timothy J. White (Cincinnati), Mack Mariani (Cincinnati), Fiona Buckley (Cork), and Claire McGing (Maynooth)
Women’s Political Role in Old and New Ireland: From Marginalization to Gender Quotas .................................................................................................................. 203

Alan Ahearne (Galway)
Economic Sovereignty in Ireland: A Thing of the Past? ............................................ 219

Patrick McCabe (Clones)
“1916 I think impossible to think about without thinking of Yeats and O’Casey”:
Public Interview with Neil Jordan .................................................................................. 229

Notes on Contributors .................................................................................................. 255