

FANTASTIC ANIMALS, ANIMALS IN THE FANTASTIC

Issue 1 & 2

Thomas Honegger and Fanfan Chen

Editors' in Chief Preface 1

Oliver Bidlo, Thomas Honegger and Frank Weinreich

Fantastic Animals, Animals in the Fantastic: Introduction 3

ARTICLES

Friedhelm Schneidewind (Hemsbach, Germany)

Talking Animals as Literary Protagonists 5

Anja Höing (Osnabrück, Germany)

Negotiating Anthropomorphism in Talking Animal Stories—
An Ecocritical Approach to Fantastic Animals 21

Steve Gronert Ellerhoff (Des Moines, USA)

The Rabbit Who Saw It All Coming: Western Concepts of Shamanism
in Watership Down 33

Jenn Grunigen (Eugene, USA)

'Queering the Fox': A Reading of Four Works of Vulpine Mythpunk 43

Smadar Shiffman (Tel Aviv, Israel)

Kafka's Fantastic Animals 59

Kristine Larsen (New Britain, USA)

"Mutant, Monster, Freak": The Mythological World of Andrzej Sapkowski's
Witcher Series 65

Amber J. Rose (Madison, USA)

ok þar er mér úlfsins ván, er ek eyrum sá.
And I expect a wolf, when I see a wolf's ears 79

Lukasz Neubauer (Koszalin, Poland)
The Eagle is not Coming: Some Remarks on the Absence of the News-Bearing Eagle in Peter Jackson's Adaptation of The Lord of the Rings	99
Victoria Holtz Wodzak (La Crosse, USA)
On Pilgrimage Among Beasts: Narnia, and the Beasts Who Teach	109
Fanfan Chen (Shou Feng, Taiwan)
The Animal Imaginary of Fantastic Time and Narrative in Inuyasha	123
Daniel Lau and Sarah Schlüter (Berlin and Münster, Germany)
Anzû—Mesopotamia's mythological thunderbird	139
Tziona Grossmark (Upper Galilee, Israel)
I saw a frog the size of the Fort of Hagronia (BT Baba Batra 73b)— Or How Big is an Elephant?	155
Timo Lothmann (Aachen, Germany)
The ravaging and hoard-guarding antagonist: A cognitive approach to dragon conceptualisations in Beowulf and selected writings of J.R.R. Tolkien	169
ABOUT THE AUTHORS AND EDITORS	185